May Meeting Highlights

The May meeting was called to order with 25 members and guests attending.

Show & Tell

Dan Kleckner brought a Precision Aerobatics XR-52 . The model has a Trust 45 brushless motor turning a 13 x 6 wood prop. Weight is 1lbs 14 oz., plus a 15 oz., 4s 4,000 mah battery. The power setup pulls 6 lbs. 11 oz. at 70 amps.

Dan also showed of a single cell lipo charger that displays mah while charging. This charger sells for about $40.

Dan also mentioned that he lost the Yak he had brought to the April meeting to a cold solder joint.

Dave Mohr showed off a Carl Goldberg Falcon 56 he resurrected, re-covered and converted to electric power. The model flies on a 4000mah pack with a 12 x 6 prop, and weighs a little under 3 lbs. 9 oz. Dave has outfitted the model with Corona digital servos.

Tom Schweizer brought quite a lot of hardware, covering material and tools to give away, donated by a friend of his who is getting out of the hobby.

Treasurer's report

Dan Kleckner reports the our only expense this month was rental for the PortoJohn, which was $116.67. Our balance is now at $3,311.27.

The raffle balance stands at around $1,500.

Comittees

Fun Fly : The fun fly this year appears to coincide with the lakefront air show. The boy scouts will be available again to run concessions. Rick May was informally elected in absentia to act as Contest Coordinator.

The May 16 swap meet was briefly discussed. There was a fairly good turnout for this first Lakeland swap meet. Around 25 members and guests attended and a fair amount of equipment found a new home.

Old Business

Further discussion of the potential Crites Field event on June 13 was held. Rikk Wolfs and Paul Williams have obtained Contest Director certification and additional insurance from the AMA for the event. Because the main E/W runway will be under construction during the event, we will be able to take off and land parallel to that runway, and still be a safe distance from the active N/S runway. There will be a static display in addition to flight demonstrations, and a Quadcopter workshop as well.

Todd Weiler reported another successful school demonstration in Burlington. 58 kids were introduced to model flying with the help of Todd, Dave Mohr, Dennis Grossklaus, and John Slatinski.

New Business

Two new members were voted in: Randy Knackert and Paul Williams. Welcome to the club, gentlemen!
